While I expect benefits from this treatment, I fully understand that because of factors beyond our control, such benefits and particular outcomes cannot be guaranteed.

I understand that because of the counseling or therapy, I may experience emotional strain at times. I may feel worse during treatment and make life changes that could be distressing.

I understand that this clinician is not providing an emergency service and I have been informed of whom to call upon in an emergency or during weekend and unavailable hours.

I understand that regular attendance will produce the maximum benefits but that I am free to discontinue treatment at any time. If I decide to do so, I will notify the clinician at least two weeks in advance so that effective planning for continued care can be implemented.

As stated in the American Psychological Association Code of Ethics:

(b) Psychologist also may disclose confidential information with the appropriate consent of the patient or the individual or organizational client (or of another legally authorized person on behalf of the patient or client), unless prohibited by law.

I understand that the clinician stated above is under the direct supervision of Dr. Jenna Elwart and therefore will maintain the above confidentiality laws in addition to disclosing confidential information on a regular basis for supervision purposes. Dr. Jenna Elwart is a licensed psychologist who is bound by the above confidentiality laws.

I know of no reasons why I should not undertake this therapy and I agree to participate fully and voluntarily.
